

Ak-Chin Council and Education honors first Doctoral degree earned in Ak-Chin

Growing up, Sandra Shade knew education was going to play an important role in her life. As a daughter and niece of teachers, earning a higher education was going to happen. In 2019, she has achieved and earned the highest academic honor possible, a doctoral degree. The first ever in Ak-Chin.

congratulated the students on their achievements. She also shared the phrase, "All roads lead to Rome." Explaining how ancient Romans built transportation systems in Italy that had all roads lead to Rome, she said in reference to education, "there are different paths and ways to reach the same goal."

Dr. Shade was one of many students recognized at the Ak-Chin Higher Education/GED Graduation banquet held at the Elements Event Center on Friday, March 1. She also was the keynote speaker for the event.

"All roads lead to Ak-Chin" she shared, encouraging students to know that Ak-Chin leadership wants members, once they graduate, to bring their talents and commitments home to the Community.

Opening the celebration was Ak-Chin royalty Miss Ak-Chin Elaina Enos and Jr. Miss Ak-Chin Jilayne Miguel who provided a prayer for the Italian meal.

Dr. McClellan also reminded students that "you didn't do it alone," acknowledging that families, teachers and the Higher Ed program have helped. Closing her remarks, she shared the inspirational poem, "A Creed to Live By."

The annual event recognizes academic achievement of students in the Higher Education program and those students who successfully complete the GED program earning their diploma certificate.

Higher Education Academic Advisor Pamela Velasquez introduced Dr. Shade. Sharing her educational background beginning with her graduation from Casa Grande Union High School, Dr. Shade went on to Mesa Community College earning her Associate's Degree in

Mul-Chu-Tha brings crowds for 57th annual celebration

Story and photos by K. Morago

"Bringing People Together to Celebrate Culture & Tradition" Mul-Chu-Tha parade theme had the Sacaton Elders create a ce:mait making scene on their entry, earning 2nd place. Elders on the float - Gail Coochyouma, Karen Enos, O'Neil Jordan and Clyde Lyons.

Playing Songuvi'l, waving in a parade, or facing a wild horse in a rodeo arena, Ak-Chin members did and saw it all during this year's Mul-Chu-Tha over the weekend in Sacaton.

With the theme "Bringing People Together to Celebrate Culture and Tradition," the 57th Annual Mul-Chu-Tha brought people together thousands of times over.

The newly announced Little Mr. and Little Miss Ak-Chin joined Ak-Chin royalty on a decorated float in the Saturday, March 9 parade. Members of the Ak-Chin Community Council walked alongside, handing out goodies and greeting parade watchers.

The Ak-Chin Youth Council was also in the parade in an All 4-Tribes Youth Council entry. The young ladies performed traditional dances along the route with the young men singing behind them.

Ak-Chin members were in the crowd of the various events. Ak-Chin elder Terry Enos sat with Gila River Councilman Thomas R. White at Friday's Community Day, catching up and witnessing the crowning of the new Miss Gila River 2019-2020 Tyler R. Owens and Jr. Miss Gila River 2019-2020 Susanna N. Osife.

At the fairgrounds on Saturday, Ak-Chin musician Wilson "Milo" Antone and his band "The Pick-Up Kings," participated in the Battle of the Bands contest. With a 1pm timeslot, they performed five warm-up songs before playing the three competition songs of a waila, two-step and cumbia. They performed well but did not win any awards.

Over at the rodeo arena, Ak-Chin member Jesus Balderrama entered the Wild Horse Race with Team S-wa:gima. The team placed first on Saturday and came in second for the Sunday finals.

Frequent showers bring wildflowers

Arizona wildflowers like these pretty yellow ones above are growing at an immaculate rate following the abundance of winter rains and freezing cold weather Arizona has been experiencing. This photo was take out in Hidden Valley.

Since the New Year the world has been experiencing very unusual weather conditions and for us here in Arizona we've been hit left and right with heavy rains, bringing with it freezing temperatures, whirling winds and even a recent sighting of a cold-air funnel cloud. Very unusual for the state indeed.

And the rain has not let up yet, as it looks like it will continue to sprinkle throughout the valley, well into the beginning of Spring, which is right around the corner, beginning on the 20th of March.

As Arizonans enjoy or loathe the cooler temperatures, the rash of rain has sprouted an array of wildflowers, bringing some much needed color to an otherwise very monochrome desert color scheme.

Just take a walk outside and you will see all kinds and colors of desert flowers in bloom, making the everyday landscape people are used to seeing turned into what could be described as a Monet painting.

This season is said to be the most beautiful time of the year for the desert; and though many may want to explore and capture photos of this wonderful sight, wildlife experts say that this is also the time of the year when rattlesnakes typically

HDS Associate Profile

The Harrah's Development System (HDS) Program is going strong in 2019. With HDS Associates working in various departments and at different levels in the program, the program continues to provide Ak-Chin members the opportunity to learn key areas of the casino entertainment industry.

Name: Savanna Gonzalez

Parents/family: Grand-daughter of the late Shirley Schisler

HDS Start Date: July 2018

Even if you leave, there can be opportunity to return. Meet Savanna Gonzalez. She originally participated in the program years ago, finishing a year of HDS. Starting where she left off, Savanna has returned and looks forward to graduation day as well as working at Harrah's Ak-Chin Casino as an HDS Associate.

She likes being able to connect with her Community when the HDS program participates in local events. She is also thankful for the opportunity to travel and learn about the gaming industry, like participating in the annual AIGA (Arizona Indian Gaming Association) conference and NIGA (National Indian Gaming Association) Trade Show.

"There's always a lot to learn," she says. Let's meet Savanna...

Practice makes perfect Chair Volleyball games bring fun to Ak-Chin Recreation Center gym

It started with a request from the Ak-Chin Mighty Turtles team to the Recreation Director. Would it be possible to invite other Elder Chair Volleyballers to the Community to practice? After some research into the issue, the gym was transformed with volleyball nets and now up to seven O'odham teams come to Ak-Chin to practice. The final practice will be Friday, March 15 from 8am to noon. If you're an elder, come have fun and play, or watch.

Elders from all O'odham tribes practice in Ak-Chin gym.

On February 28, 2019, Ak-Chin Youth Council hosted a Community Gathering at the Ak-Chin Justice Center. To start off the gathering a delicious meal of tacos, chips, rice and beans was served.

Afterwards, Ak-Chin Youth Council president, Dennis Antone introduced himself, along with high school representative Zaida Soliz and council member Kateri Lopez. Dennis also went over what they would be doing for the gathering.

Zaida Soliz began by explaining to the audience what a "cascaron" is. "A cascaron is used for good luck, you see (them) mostly at the dances. When at a dance if someone cracks a cascaron on your head, you have to dance with them."

Zaida also explained how to make cascarones, also known as confetti eggs. While she was explaining, Kateri was demonstrating for the audience.

First, get an egg, crack it half way open, take out the yolk and let it dry. Once it is dry, stuff confetti inside the eggshell. Place tissue paper over the eggshell and glue tissue paper over the confetti. Next, get two half sheets of a newspaper and begin rolling it until one end is big enough to hold the egg, cutting the paper point so it will look even. Glue the egg to your rolled newspaper. Once the glue is dry, you are ready to decorate your cascaron.

After the demonstration, everyone was able to craft their own cascaron. During that time Youth Council raffled some great prizes. It was a great turn out for the community gathering, everyone was having such a good time making cascarones.

Chairman testifies before Congress

On March 13, Ak-Chin Chairman Robert Miguel traveled to Washington D.C. to testify before Congress. This is his fourth time to testify, other testimonies included his testimony on receiving appropriations for the operation and maintenance of Ak-Chin's justice facility, which was recently secured. "So, eventually all these trips going to testify does pay off." shared Chairman Miguel.

Chairman Robert Miguel with Congresswoman Sharice Davids.

The Chairman's main focus of testimony this trip was to promote the advancement of appropriations for not only Ak-Chin but all tribal communities who were affected by the partial government shut-down. Miguel also highlighted current community issues of concern including; healthcare and rural broadband services.

After his testimony, Chairman Miguel met up with Arizona Senator Kyrsten Sinema (D) and other Arizona tribal leaders, as well as U.S. Representative Tom Cole, from Oklahoma (R) to discuss bipartisan efforts on Indian Country issues.

Chairman also attended a fundraiser luncheon and met with U.S. House of Representatives Deb Haaland, New Mexico (D) and Sharice Davids, Kansas (D) the first two Native American women elected to the U.S. Congress.

Kauai Wilson empowers Ak-Chin artists on International Women's Day

Story and photos by R. Peters

What a great way to honor International Women's Day, Friday March 8, as over 15 women and one very lucky guy experienced a night of Art & Sip while creating an amazing mother nature inspired piece.

Artist, entrepreneur and mom, Kauai Wilson has been organizing Art & Sip events around the community for quite some time, and this was the second event held at the Ak-Chin Library.

Once everyone had gathered their supplies and found an open canvas at the library, Kauai started the evening off with a toast, "to International Women's Day... Yeah girls!"

Then she patiently showed us step by step how to create many different images, allowing us to go at our own pace, while praising and reinforcing everyone that they were doing a fantastic job.

By evening's end everyone had completed a piece that they could be proud of and after a few group photos all went home with a new painting to appreciate, hang or gift.

Kauai shared comments and photos from the event on her FB page. "Thank you, my amazing attendees, for coming out to paint!... Thank you, Ak-Chin for having me!!! Always a pleasure. See you again soon. CHEERS!!"

If you would like to create your own Kauai Wilson inspired masterpiece you can find her next Art and Sip event at: kauiwilson.com

She continued, "Education will help give you perspective on how you view various situations."

Dr. Shade continued that with an education, it will provide opportunities and help with jobs and careers. It will also help with "critical thinking skills and present ways for you to be innovative."

She also told students not to sell themselves short. To explain this, she talked about a job interview for a position with a legal firm in Casa Grande. The attorney told her "You have a two year degree, that's enough for you," he said offering her the job if she didn't plan to leave the position to go back to school when asking about her future plans.

Dr. Shade thanked him but told him she was not going to take the job. She did go back to school, advancing to Arizona State University.

She also gave recognition to her mother Lillian and aunt Jeannie who were her role models. Describing the recent path toward her doctorate, Dr. Shade also recognized Ak-Chin member Janice Anderson who is currently working on her doctorate.

Dr. Shade had many thanks to share. Reflecting on those no longer with her, family, co-workers and Community, she also thanked the Creator for giving her the strength to reach her goal.

Ak-Chin Chairman Robert Miguel, Council members Delia Carlyle and Lisa Garcia presented Dr. Shade with a Pendleton blanket.

The Council also congratulated the four Higher Education graduates and 22 Higher Education students honored with GPA's of 2.5 or higher.

Completing their programs were: Lina Batopis successfully completing Pima Medical Institute; Austin Lopez successfully completing Arizona Automotive Institute; Tashina Salcido successfully completing Paul Mitchell The School - Louisville and Ashley Vincent successfully completing the Arizona Culinary Institute.

Receiving academic recognition of a GPA of 2.5 or higher were: Rebecca Alvarez, Janice Anderson, Wilson Antone, Irene Arredondo, Lina Batopis, Allissia Bandin, Arnulfo Bandin, Brandon Dean, Curtis Dean, Ricardo Deleon, Lashay Deloney, Graham Disbrow, Tommy Jensen, Jeremy Johns, Austin Lopez, Autum Manuel, Erica Manuel, Reyna Miguel, Amelia Osife, Dannon Peters, Tashina Salcido, Madeline Van Sickle, and Ashley Vincent.

Ak-Chin Higher Education student Madeline Van Sickle who is pursuing her degree in Nursing was announced the 2019 O'odham Tash scholarship recipient and presented a check from O'odham Tash organization.

After a break, the GED program honored four graduates, two

Ak-Chin Language Program and royalty singing during the program which attended the ceremony. Completing all requirements to graduate were: Byron White, Anthony Quintero, Jr. (who participated in last year's ceremony), Brandon Dean and Kyle Peters. Participating in the ceremony were Brandon and Kyle. Dressed in graduation cap and gown, the Language Program sang the graduates outside onto the lawn where they threw up their caps. A receiving line of well wishers of family and friends congratulated them.

Jr. Miss Ak-Chin by event, JV Girls softball by game

Jilayne Miguel (second from right) is joined by friends Joann Pablo and Joanne Aranaydo, and sister Alison Miguel at a recent Fairfax JV softball game.

Many recognize Jilayne Miguel as the current Jr. Miss Ak-Chin, but while at school, she's a student-athlete. Playing on the Betty Fairfax High School Junior Varsity softball team, she enjoys participating on the team. The season has been tough but look forward to her infectious smile on the ball field.

Ak-Chin student Evone Santiago pitches during a recent MHS Varsity girls softball home game. The Lady Rams have been playing great ball and have a winning record in their division. Evone plays outfield and pitches when needed.

What is your current job/position? Cage

Work experience prior to Harrah's: worked as a Correctional officer with Gila River Indian Community

Area of interest (internship): still searching

Reason for applying for and accepting position as HDS Associate: I liked the opportunity of being able to switch different departments.

Length of rotation/current position: 5 weeks

Most memorable "rotation" story? Bingo was one of my faves. They have pot lucks twice a week. It's so convenient and with their long days, very helpful to stay fueled.

What do you like/enjoy most about the HDS Program? Getting to know all the other employees and learning things from their view.

What do you like least/enjoy about the HDS Program? I definitely underestimated the constant change in schedules, it can be tiring at times.

What skill/knowledge have you gained from the HDS Program? Everything from running a cash drawer, paying out guests 100's of dollars, to problem solving and giving excellent customer service. You really learn it all here!

HDS Graduation date? I have about two more months until I'm done.

How has being part of the HDS Program changed your life/career path? It's allowed me to be more active in our Community and learn how to get out of my comfort zone.

Comments or advice for others currently in or interested in HDS Program? HDS is hard work! So you have to come with your "A" game and be ready for any challenges that may seem farfetched. You can do it!

Ultimate goal: Find a department I know I can make the most difference in by my skills and knowledge I've gained from HDS.

Hobbies: being adventurous!

Maricopa Music Fest honors Terry Enos

Terry's inscription read, "Maricopa Veterans Care Center - Presented to Terry O. Enos - 2019 Community Service Award.

The Music Fest was held outdoors at the Duke at Rancho El Dorado Golf Course. A bbq-style meal was served while guests and honorees enjoyed an evening of music by Eric Seats & 333's and Dina Preston.

A silent auction was also held to help raise funds for a Maricopa Veterans Care Center for the Maricopa-Pinal area. Auction items included personalized items from Patti LaBelle, a meal with Maricopa Mayor Christian Price or Chief of Police Steven Stahl and more.

The MVCC would also serve to provide free Post Traumatic Stress Disorder wellness services to America's Veterans and others who have experienced trauma or suffer from PTSD.

StrongHearts Native Helpline Expands Operating Hours In Order To Better Serve Native Americans Impacted By Domestic Violence

Native-centered helpline increases operating hours in response to need for culturally-based support for victims of violence in Indian Country and Alaska

EAGAN, Minnesota (March 6, 2019) — On its second year anniversary, the StrongHearts Native Helpline (1-844-7NATIVE) is announcing the expansion of its hours of operation, which are now 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. CST, seven days a week, in order to better serve those impacted by domestic violence and dating violence in tribal communities across the U.S. Callers reaching out after hours have the option to connect with the National Domestic Violence Hotline (1-800-799-SAFE) by selecting option 1. To date, the helpline has received more than 2,100 from victims, survivors, concerned family members and friends, service providers and more, helping to close a gap in culturally-appropriate resources for those facing abuse.

With the support from the National Domestic Violence Hotline, the National Indigenous Women's Resource Center, and the Family Violence Prevention and Services Program, StrongHearts has established its first call center located in Eagan, Minnesota. With the expansion in services, StrongHearts has increased its staff of advocates in order to respond to callers, many of whom are seeking support as they navigate difficult barriers to justice and safety. Trained with a strong understanding of tribal cultures, sovereignty and law, advocates offer free, peer-to-peer support and a connection to local, culturally appropriate resources.

"After hearing from so many tribes and advocates about their community needs, we are so pleased to expand our operating hours to better serve Native victims of relationship abuse," said StrongHearts Assistant Director Lori Jump (Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians). "Domestic violence impacts our relatives every hour of every day, so it's critical for us to be available as much as possible. Yet, we also understand we can't do this work alone. We are honored to be working alongside tribal advocates and programs doing this good work to help Native people seek lives that are free of abuse."

Domestic violence remains a severe issue in tribal communities, where half of Native American women and a third of Native men have experienced physical abuse by an intimate partner in their lifetime, according to a study by the National Institute of Justice (NIJ). The study also found for those who had experienced violence, more than a third of Native women and more than one in six Native men were unable to access the services they needed, such as shelters, legal advocacy and medical services.

"When victims can't access services, more specifically, services that understand their unique worldview and culture, it leaves little room for healing and restoration," Jump said. "Our people are strong and resilient, but it is crucial that we create spaces where survivors of violence feel safe and empowered to make the best decisions for themselves and their families along their healing journey, wherever it leads. We are here for our relatives. No one should have to face violence alone."

Ak-Chin Fire Department soars through extensive training to keep crews on top of their game

The Ak-Chin Fire Department keeps busy 365 days a year, helping those in need day and night. But running on a 24/7 cycle of heroism means that the firefighters have to keep their minds sharp and fitness levels at a superlative rate.

Ak-Chin firefighters strengthen their set of abilities on a daily basis with training sessions to keep their wits about them during this extremely unpredictable line of work.

The latest training by the fire crews have been live burn trainings. These trainings give the crew an all too real house fire/general fire simulation conducted inside of a burn house, a house located on the community that serves as a somewhat inherited training space.

Simulation, yes, but the fire is not, setting a controlled blaze inside the dilapidated house firefighters conduct plans during fictitious scenarios and assess what needs to be done in order to contain the flames with no room for miscalculation.

Quotidian trainings like the live burn sessions alongside various types of important trainings are crucial to keeping their abilities intact, especially when they need to keep the community a safe and healthy place to live. So, when they get a call of distress they will not hesitate nor contemplate on what actions need to be taken to ensure any situation is handled with professionalism and kindness.

The firefighters of Ak-Chin continue to be the jack of all trades in their profession.

- Over 50% of the final work of art (drawing, painting, sculpture, jewelry) must be from recycled materials. No resubmittals of recycled art entered into the contest in previous years will be accepted or judged.

Criteria: The materials used would have been considered junk or garbage and would have ended up in the landfill if you had not rescued them for art. Contestants can use found items such as pine cones, rocks, sticks, and shells. The majority of the project should be recycled material such as recycled paper, cardboard, plastics, glass, cans, bottles, wood, Styrofoam, etc.

Art will be judged on originality, creativity, ingenuity and use of recycled materials.

Art will be displayed during the Ak-Chin Indian Community Earth Day Celebration at the Milton "Paul" Antone Memorial Park, 46521 W. Farrell Road on Saturday, April 27, 2019, where winners will be revealed.

Artwork may be picked up from the Milton "Paul" Antone Memorial Park after 1:00 pm at the event. All artwork must be picked up from the Ak-Chin Water Reclamation Facility, 46200 W. Ralph Street, on Monday, April 29, 2019 from 8am-5pm. Art not picked up on this day will be recycled or donated.

Ak-Chin rounding a 4-year partnership with Chicago Cubs

Milwaukee Brewers' third baseman, Lucas Erceg hits one to the fence on Saturday March 2, against the Chicago Cubs at Sloan Park in Mesa, Arizona. The Brewers would dominate the game, winning 7-4. With great weather and a spectacular stadium its no wonder the attendance was high as 15,782 Cubbies and Brewers fans packed the ballpark.

It's been a fantastic four-year partnership between the Ak-Chin Indian Community and the Chicago Cubs Baseball Club.

The sponsorship granted marketing opportunities for Ak-Chin and limited Cub's home game tickets to the Community as well as a left-field billboard all year long, at Sloan Park.

The Cubs are part of the 15 MLB teams who make up the Arizona Cactus League. The Cubs have been conducting their spring training in Arizona since 1952.

Fast-forward seventy-three years and you see the Cactus League and the Cubbies still going strong, with half of the MLB teams in Arizona, while the other half train in Florida, it's easy to see why so many are here, to take advantage of Arizona's beautiful weather and Arizona's elite ballparks.

There are actually ten superb stadiums in the Phoenix-Metro area that cater to the 15 Cactus League spring training teams. The Cubs' home field is Sloan Park in Mesa.

So, for all you baseball fans who may never get to leave the Grand Canyon State to watch a home game of one of these fifteen teams, now's your chance. March is grand-slammed with games, giving you the perfect opportunity to see your favorite teams, players and even managers.

I recently had the opportunity to see one of Arizona's best ball players turned manager during the Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Brewers game on Saturday, March 2nd. While everyone was looking to score a selfie or autograph with a Cubbie or Brewer's player, I was fixated on none other than Milwaukee Brewers manager Craig Counsell.

Counsell was a key player for the Arizona Diamondbacks during the 2001 World Series, and was also named the NLCS Most Valuable Player in 2001. He is my all-time favorite player, not just because he played infield for the D-Backs, but he also played for one of my favorite college teams as well, Notre Dame.

Although the 2019 Cactus League season is about to come to an end, you still have plenty of opportunities to catch a game or two, maybe even catch a fly, sing "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" during a seventh inning stretch or just say hi to one of Arizona's most humble and genuine players of the game, Craig Counsell.

Manager for the Milwaukee Brewers and former Arizona Diamondbacks infielder, Craig Counsell.

Normally a show seen at Caesars Entertainment property The Rio in Las Vegas in a theater bearing their name, magicians Penn & Teller performed for one special invitation-only VIP show on Friday, March 8.

Penn Jillette was quite the storyteller, sharing history of their tricks and stories that spanned their 45 year career as a magic duo. While not speaking, magician/mime Raymond Teller was able to convey emotion through his body language.

The finale trick had everyone ripping cards they had been holding. Penn shared that those who were able to follow his directions would find that the two final cards in one's hands would match which he said meant they would find true love.

Attendees were encouraged to keep their cell phones on and also pick up some playing cards and cup at the entrance to participate in several tricks.

For the cell phone trick, Penn invited an audience member up and encouraged him to start the video on his phone.

Ak-Chin members Candi Chavez and Maria Carlyle-Zepeda were lucky amateur magicians who held matching cards.

It was a whirlwind of crazy enthusiastic bargoers on Friday, March 8, as a group of people were more than ready to show who has the fastest brain in the game, for UltraStar's Luxe Lounge "The Answer Is" game show.

Host David "D.T." Trujillo asks contestants questions.

When the two hit the stage at 8:05pm, it was 90 minutes of magic tricks that had you wondering, "how did they do that?" Even when Penn,

After some minutes, a phone was ringing underneath another audience member's seat as it somehow wound up in a plastic box. That box was brought up on stage to reveal a fish which had the phone inside it.

Maria shared that Teller actually signed her cards. Penn & Teller left the stage not heading backstage but toward the Events Center lobby and did a Meet and Greet after the show.

The first round of teams were the Church of Celebration Signals One vs Chuckars.

Laughing like there was no tomorrow, the contestants and audience both enjoyed a humorous evening.

BUCKLE UP!

Every Person, Every Seat, Every Time.

The Facts

- American Indians and Alaska Natives are more at risk for getting injured or killed in a car crash than other Americans.¹
- Three out of every four passengers who died in car crashes on reservations were not wearing seat belts at the time of the crash.²
- Seat belts reduce the risk of serious injury and death in a crash by about half.³

Help Keep Yourself and Your Loved Ones Safe

You can help keep yourself and your loved ones safe by:

- Wearing a seat belt every time you ride in a car.
- Buckling up the right way.
 - The lap belt goes across the hips, below the stomach.
 - The shoulder belt goes across the middle of the chest and over the shoulder.
 - Never put the shoulder belt behind your back or under your arm.
- Always wearing a seat belt even when the car or truck has air bags.
- Never riding in the bed of a truck.
- Never using a seat belt to buckle more than one person at a time.

St. Patrick's Day Craft Sale at St. Francis of Assisi

Our St. Francis of Assisi Ak-Chin Parrish has grown in attendance and is in need of more supply items for weekly services, as well for all children and adult religious classes. And as always, we must also start preparing for our Annual Feast in October.

This Sunday, March 17, we will be having a Craft Sale following Mass, around 1 pm. We will be set up outside the entrance of the Church with bead bracelets, necklaces, flower pin cushions made from various fabric prints and decorated tiles. All items are handmade and will come with a gift box or plastic bag and can be a nice addition to your upcoming Easter baskets!

Please stop by and see what St. Francis may have for you!
